Derry Public Library

Report of the Trustees, Librarian and Treasurer

TRUSTEE'S REPORT.

The trustees of the Derry Public Library would submit the following report:

The undersigned, having been appointed temporary trustees of the library to be established at West Derry, in accordance with the vote of the town, in accepting the gift of one thousand dollars from Hon. R. W. Pillsbury for that purpose, accepted the trust committed to us because of our interest in the enterprise, although conscious of having no special qualifications for the work that would devolve upon us.

Our task of "setting up" the library, and its management during these first months of its existence, has been no easy one.

We have given much time and effort to the work, but feel amply repaid in the satisfaction of having tried to render a service that shall tend to the betterment of the community in many ways.

At the request of the selectmen we attended to the work of fitting and furnishing the rooms in the Adams Memorial Building, which had been designed for library purposes, for which the town had appropriated the sum of five hundred dollars. The expense came within the appropriation, and we believe the rooms and equipments to be satisfactory and adequate for a number of years at least.

In expending the one thousand dollars given by Mr. Pillsbury we tried to use the money to the best advantage. We sought the counsel of others conversant with library matters and competent to advise in the selection of books, and we believe that we have a good nucleus of what we trust will in the near future be a much larger collection of the better class of books suitable for a public library. We think we have but very few, if any, to which reasonable objection can be made. In the work of selection we received much valuable assistance from Mrs. Bertha B. Shaw of Worcester, than whom there are but few better qualified to render such help.

In selecting the books and magazines for the reading room we endeavored to meet the varied wants of the expected patrons, and think we were as successful as could reasonably be expected, although in making up a list for another year some changes could well be made.

It was necessary that the library should have a name, and as it belongs to the town of Derry, all the people of the town being alike entitled to share in its benefits, we could think of none more appropriate than the one adopted, "The Derry Public Library."

Rev. W. E. Gaskin was appointed librarian and has, with the assistance of his daughter, rendered faithful and efficient service. Miss Florence M. Thurston was appointed assistant librarian, and has served in the absence of the librarian, and at times during the "rush" hours of Saturday evenings.

The magazines and papers for the reading room were purchased with money received from the selectmen as one half the annual town appropriation for library purposes.

The report of the librarian shows the patronage that the library has received. With twelve hundred books we have had a circulation of nearly ten thousand during less than six months, over nine hundred cards having been given out. This is conclusive evidence that more books are needed to meet the demand. Under present conditions the number on the shelves at any one time to select from is small, and at the present rate of increase of patrons more cards will soon have been issued than there will be books to loan. In view of these facts, we feel justified in recommending a liberal appropriation by the town this year to be expended at once for books.

The reading room has been well patronized, especially in the evening, by young men and boys, although older men, and ladies also, are frequent visitors.

We have recently called in all of the books, repairing such as needed it, and in different ways have tried to put the library into the best possible condition for our successors.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

To the Trustees of the Derry Public Library:

The first annual report of the Derry Public Library is hereby presented:

The library has been open for the delivery of books since August 10, 1905, Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday afternoons from three to five o'clock, and every evening after six o'clock, with the exception of Sundays and holidays. The reading room has been open afternoons and evenings from two to five, and from six until as late as any cared to remain, every week day, holidays excepted. Sundays the reading room has been open every afternoon.

The open system adopted has given great satisfaction, and has made it possible to supply the large number who have taken out books much more expeditiously than with the old closed system.

Report of Board of Health

The sanitary condition of the town the past year has been unusually good.

The public in general appear to be taking pride in keeping their premises neat and clean.

During the past year there has been seven cases of measles, six of scarlet fever, and one of typhoid, all recovered.

Four houses were quarantined. As two of these houses contained large families and were quarantined several weeks, the expense was somewhat large.

Hereafter the board will limit the quarantined to a certain amount per week.

The board has been appealed to several times the past year by different schoolteachers as to what course to pursue with children afflicted with pediculosis. The law is that no child having head lice, or any other communicable trouble, shall attend public school.

WALTER R. SANDERS,
Chairman Board of Health.

SCHOOL BOARD

In compliance with the law we respectfully submit the following report, with a financial statement for the year ending February 15, 1906:

In accordance with the vote taken at the last annual meeting we united with the Special District of Derry Village to form a supervisory district.

We organized the supervisory board with Mrs. A. B. Shepard as chairman, Dr. A. B. Wark clerk, and Mrs. Helen D. Hood treasurer.

We feel that our schools were never in better condition, and this is largely due to the efficient work of our superintendent.

The schools at West Derry are overcrowded, and we have had a class of thirty-nine primary children in the banquet hall at the Memorial Building since September. We need at least three new schoolrooms at once, and with the present prospects of increased population we shall soon need more.

We have spent this year about seven hundred dollars for repairs to our school buildings, four hundred of this being for cementing the basement of the Oak-street School and installing the necessary sanitary improvements at both schools.

MRS. ANNIE B. SHEPARD,
DR. A. B. WARK,
ERNEST L. ABBOTT,
Board of Education.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Joint Supervisory Board:

This, the first annual report of your superintendent, is to acquaint the citizens with the condition and progress of your schools.

I think that I am safe in saying that your schools are in far better condition than they were a year ago.

In West Derry, at the Oak-street School, there has been an average membership of about three hundred, or on an average fifty to a teacher. This overcrowded condition has been detrimental to the best work, yet nevertheless good results have been obtained. In two rooms it became necessary to use an assistant. I would recommend that next year the eighth and ninth grades be divided so that the class that is to graduate may receive the undivided attention of the teacher. It would be a great benefit to these grades if that could be done this spring, but owing to lack of room this seems impossible.

It will also become necessary to do this same thing with the fourth and fifth grades at the Oak-street School. In Mrs. Dickey's room the fifty-six seats are all occupied, and three children, who live on the East Side, had to go to the other school.

At the West Side School, when school opened in September, we found that the first grade was overcrowded, sixty-six scholars being registered, so it was necessary to secure an extra room. This was obtained in the basement of the Memorial Building.

The work at the West Side has shown most gratifying results, the children making great progress.

The attendance at the Grammar School in District No. 2, while large, is not too large for good results. The work accomplished in this school has been very good. The primary room has shown remarkable results, both in reading and number. The work in the grammar room has been done thoroughly and conscientiously, and I am positive that the results next June will bear witness to what I have said.

In District No. 1, East Derry, it is only a question of time when it will be necessary to employ two teachers during the whole year. It has been the custom to have an extra teacher in the fall and spring, but only one in the winter. There is no reason why this school, with fewer scholars and same number of teachers, should not be as well graded as the school in the village, but it will not be until the primary room is run the year round. However, while it seems to me that the scholars are graded somewhat too high, they certainly have improved to a great extent.

Without any exception the work done in the District Schools has been up to the standard of the graded schools, while their attendance has been better.

This year four things in particular have been kept in view: First, to secure uniformity in text-books used in town. This has been accomplished in everything but arithmetic. The book we are using on this subject is not giving satisfactory results. Second, to follow as closely as possible the "Course of Study for the Common Schools of New Hampshire." This has been accomplished in the graded schools, but in the ungraded schools it is hardly possible to follow it exactly. Third, to secure better attendance by the co-operation of parent and pupil. The officers in charge of enumeration reported that there were about nine hundred scholars of school age in town, and the average membership of the schools has been seven hundred. Fourth, to secure unity in the school system, and especially to secure a closer union between Pinkerton Academy and the public schools of the town. Last June in West Derry the requirement for a diploma from the Grammar School was admission to the Academy. So, through the kind help of Mr. Bingham, at a public graduation, under these conditions, ten diplomas were awarded. This June it is expected that the results in the way of a closer union will be even better than last. The examinations for admission were given in West Derry, and every pupil received all the consideration that could possibly be granted.

This report would be incomplete without some mention being made of the excellent work done by all the schools in music, due partly to hard work on the part of our music teacher and partly to a good system.

Thanks are extended to Mr. Nichols and members of the Baptist church for their kindness in allowing the use of the church on three occasions, and to the Woman's Club of Derry for their interest shown in the schools and manifested in an art exhibit for the school picture fund.

Thanks are also extended to the Board of Selectmen for their kindness in allowing us to use the banquet hall when we were pressed for room.

In closing I wish to thank the committee, the teachers, and the townspeople for their support and encouragement.

HERBERT L. GRINNELL, Jr.,

Superintendent of Schools.
